References PowerPoint Tutorial for Beginners Yes, PowerPoint can be used to create a layout for a website or a brochure, but it is also used for learning, presentation, and even for hosting the whole website. Let's discover how to create a website or brochure using PowerPoint. PowerPoint Tutorial for Beginners No website or brochure is complete without a few pages, and PowerPoint has pages that are meant for just that. PowerPoint's pages come in many varieties, and can be used to make the back, front, and even sides of the page. In this short tutorial, I am going to teach you how to design a simple brochure, and how to use this brochure to create a website for your company. It is going to be a very quick tutorial, but also you are going to have fun as I take you step by step through how to use PowerPoint to make this brochure. What are the Materials Needed? 1. PowerPoint presentation software 2. Insert images and text 3. A screen on your computer where the brochure will be displayed Step 1: Create a New Presentation You must have PowerPoint to make a brochure, so the first thing we need to do is to start PowerPoint.
